New Vintage Theatre

For Youth

Zombies Day Out

It's a theatrical plants vs. zombies when the town of Mold, Michigan-a place entirely inhabited by zombies, decides they want to give their little ones a fun day to remember. It is not your typical community project as the plants, buildings and even a carnival come to life with hilarious results. Will Daisy save the day or zombies rule? Perhaps the Moldy parents give peace a chance and give their little ghouls their happiest day ever! Family and friends are invited to a fun final performance in a theatre, complete with props and set.
